Investment casting

Investment casting Introduction :

Hong Yi's investment casting division supplies precision castings in brass, bronze, aluminum, stainless steel, and nickel-base alloys.

It is worked in a special designed workshop, with strict material, Temp., processes controlling, and offers the best castings in surface finishing, tolerance and in purity of alloy grade, it is the most expensive of all casting processes too.

Stainless steel investment castings (such as widely used material of ASTM 304, 304L, 316 and 316L) are primarily used for corrosion resistance, abrasion resistance and they typically do not require plating and additional machining operations, this allows the customers to have very little waste of raw material and reducing overall costs

We can make all possible castings according to customer's requirements, and matching all International quality material standards as like ASTM, AISI, SAE, DIN,

JIS, B.S, GOST, ISO of stainless steel, non magnetic stainless steel, nickel and chrome base alloys, brass/bronze alloys, Monel alloys, carbon and alloy steels etc.

Welcome OEM manufacture!
